I am an inquisitive and ambitious student. I earned a bachelor's degree in economics and finance with honors. I am passionate about monetary economics, central banking, and finance, which I am pursuing further in the master's program in Money and Finance at Goethe University. Apart from achieving high academic scores, I partake in various extracurricular activities. Besides my master's degree, I am enrolled in the QTEM and HerCapital programs. I am starting a Traineeship at the ECB in September 2022.

WORK EXPERIENCE

• Teaching Assistant for Introductory Statistics

February - June 2018 and February - June 2019

I was teaching Introductory Statistics practice classes for first-year English track students at the School of Economics and Business in Ljubljana for two winter semesters. By teaching others I improved my own learning skills. As many exercises in the seminars had to be done either in Excel or SPSS, I became proficient in both of them.

• Event Organization

January 2018 - June 2019

Being a part of the honor society TopEF at the School of Economics and Business in Ljubljana, I was a member of the organizing team for two innovative student competitions or "hackathons" named Innovative All-nighter.

• Exchange Participant Manager at AIESEC, Slovenia

October 2016 - July 2017

I was in charge of helping to find work opportunities for persons aged 18 to 30 who wanted to partake in an internship or do volunteer work abroad.

• Volunteer Tutor at the Institute for Support of Civil Society Initiatives and Multicultural Cooperation, Maribor

September 2015 - June 2016

I provided learning assistance (mostly for the English language) for children with learning disabilities and attention issues.
